Mystery Suicide May Have Been New Fiend Plot To Secure Money

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—Possibility that Edward Hickman may have been implicated in still another murder was being probed by Los Angeles police officials late tonight. Admittedly the accomplice of Welby Hunt, 16, in an attempted robbery that ended in a murder, Hickman's possible complicity with the death of A. J. Driskell, 60 year old grandfather of Hunt, was subject of investigation.

Driskell met his death in what was thought a suicidal leap from the Colorado street bridge at the west gate of Pasadena last May. It was learned today, however, that Driskell had withdrawn a large sum of money from the bank in which Hickman and Hunt were at that time employed. The money has never been accounted for, according to officials.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—Looking like a bored schoolboy, William Edward Hickman stood in Superior Judge Carlos Hardy's court this afternoon and listened to the reading of an indictment charging him with the kidnapping and murder of 12-year old Marion Parker.

No plea was made by the 19-year-old youth who has confessed to the Parker crime and to a string of holdups, and who early this morning admitted the murder of a Los Angeles druggist in a robbery on Christmas Eve a year ago.

TO PLEAD TUESDAY
An extension of time for pleading was asked by Jerome Walsh, Kansas City attorney who arrived this morning to represent Hickman. Judge Hardy set 2 p. m. Tuesday as the time for returning the plea.

Hickman's court appearance lasted less than ten minutes. His arraignment, already once postponed, had been set for 2 p. m. A few minutes earlier, he was taken into the Court of Municipal Judge Myron Westover, where the complaint against him was dismissed to clear the way for arraignment on the grand jury indictment.

Crowds packed the corridor leading to Judge Hardy's Court, but there was no disorder. The courtroom is in the Hall of Justice which also contains the Attorney Clare D. Horner and George Lee will go to Santa Rosa today where they will represent Mrs. Annie Astorino in her divorce proceedings against her husband, Vincent Astorino. As the charges of cruelty will not be contested, Mrs. Astorino is expected to be awarded an interlocutory decree. The action is an outcome of the sensational shooting of Mrs. Astorino by her husband several months ago in Santa Rosa where she fled. Astorino is still in the county jail.

Astorino Case In Court Today

The new site is about a mile northeast of California Point and one and one-half miles southeast of Point San Quentin. The other location is occupied by quarantine anchorage No. 5.

Forcing five bank clerks into the vault two men late yesterday held up the Mt. Scott State bank, located in the southeastern part of Portland and escaped with approximately $2000 in currency.

APPREHENSION OF KIDNAPPER IS EXPECTED

(By Universal Service)
Capture of Robert McClelland, paroled Folsom convict and abductor of 11-year-old Evelyn Smith, was expected momentarily last night as Monterey county officers were in pursuit of a truck on which he was fleeing on the coast highway toward San Francisco.

McClelland's car, out of gasoline, was found abandoned by the fugitive near Gonzales late yesterday afternoon.

Deputy sheriffs, combing the highways for the kidnapper, came upon the machine while McClelland was down the road looking for a gasoline station.

CHASE GROWS HOT
Two itinerants, who had been riding with McClelland, identified the rogue's gallery pictures shown them by the officers and pointed out the direction in which McClelland had gone.

Meanwhile, however, McClelland had "spotted" the officers and leaped upon a passing truck while they were still questioning the other two men. The truck was bound north, the officers were told, and appeared loaded for a long journey. The truck had about an hour's start.

The officers at once flashed word along the Coast highway and it was anticipated that the truck would be intercepted at Gilroy or overtaken by the pursuers from Monterey county.

The girl, abandoned by him in Redlands after his attempts to attack her had failed, is to be brought back to her home in the East Bay district by Mrs. Mary B. Quayne, Alameda juvenile officer.

HEADED FOR MEXICO
Throughout the journey south, the child said, McClelland talked of Mexico and asked her to accompany him there.

It was pointed out by officers that the route taken by McClelland after leaving Oakland was in a direct line for Mexico, the fabled of border towns.

It is belief of the officers who head the Smith girl's story that McClelland abducted her for the sole purpose of getting her into Mexico and probably selling her into "white slavery."

Physicians who examined the girl said she had suffered shock and minor injuries.

ATTACK FRUSTRATED
The attempted attack, the doctors reported, was frustrated by Evelyn's desperate fight.

McClelland took the girl to the home of a welfare worker, Mrs. Emma J. Spence, in Redlands, the day after he persuaded her poverty-stricken parents to let him take her to his mother's "millionaire home" for adoption.

Newspaper stories of the kidnapping attracted Mrs. Spence's attention and she reported her suspicions to police after McClelland fled from her home.

Local Milk Dealers Discuss Product

C. H. Rothe of the California Dairy council, last night addressed the members of the Richmond Milk Producers association in Brotherhood hall. He declared that the milk consumption of Richmond was not in keeping with the high quality of milk produced here and called attention to the statement of Dr. E. B. McCullum of Johns Hopkins university of Baltimore, that milk was the perfect food in so much that it contained all necessary ingredients of diet. Dr. McCullum was the first to do research work in vitamins and the first to recognize Vitamine A and B, now recognized in dietetics.

The milk producers discussed the feasibility of educating the public into the benefits of using more milk in their daily diet.

Year's Births Exceeds Deaths By More Than "Two To One"

Births for the year 1927 exceed deaths by more than two to one according to the records of the city health department. To date, 374 children have been born in Richmond during the year as compared to 155 deaths. As registrations of birth certificates do not close until January 5, the number of newly born children is expected to exceed the total for last year when 388 children were born. Deaths in 1925 numbered 152.

Figures for the previous year show that there were 389 birth in 1925 as compared with 125 deaths. 354 births and 120 deaths in 1924, 322 births and 108 deaths in 1923 and 288 births and 116 deaths in 1922.

While the estimated population of Richmond during the past five years had increased to a large amount, deaths have not increased proportionally, according to Miss Gleesner Chandler of the city health department and births have shown a considerable increase. The basis of population for the year 1927 will be taken as 30,000. Miss Chandler stated yesterday, or an increase of 3,000 over last year. These figures are based on the various estimates used in determining population.

MARTINEZ, Dec. 29.—With a municipal fire loss of only $50 during the last year, belief was expressed here today that Martinez had established a national record for cities of its size.

JOYS OF LIVING

Who has not wished that he had lived in some remote and happy time? The magnificence of Rome, the glory of Greece, the golden chariots, the alabaster vases and the ivory chairs of Tutankhamen fascinate and enthrall. Looking about upon a sick and weary world, nerve-shattered and hungry, it is not difficult to imagine how pleasant life must have been in an easier, golden day.

Yet, if we had been living in the days of the pampered Pharaohs, the vast majority of us would have been digging the irrigation ditches, sweating over the great stones that went into the pyramids, or—if we had been particularly clever—perhaps hammering the gold that went into the ubiquitous statues of the king. The comforts of life were only at the top in 1500 B. C. and even the hope for improvement had not percolated to the bottom. There may be some consolation for the dissatisfaction of man today in this thought—that his lot would have been infinitely worse 3,000 or more years ago.

It's easier to live today than ever before. Nearly all the woes from which the world suffers might have been prevented. But when an ancient civilization was overrun by a savage horde, or when plague or famine decimated the population of the fairest cities, the wisest of these people couldn't help themselves.

Migratory tribes have since been pretty well billeted and ticketed, railroads and steamships have conquered famine, and intelligent sanitation and magnificently brave and curious medicine is less respectful of disease with each passing year.

German socialists could not get the death penalty abolished but they succeeded in getting a law passed so that in the future the manipulator of the guillotine will wear a business suit instead of the customary full dress clothes. We don't know whether this change will mean anything to the condemned victims or not but it at least ought to convince them that the headman means business.

The Italian government has prohibited the dancing of the Charleston and the black bottom over there. Maybe the Italians think Europe is shaky enough as it is.

You hear a lot of talk about self-made men, but all men are that.

Experts think the old-fashioned dance is going to come back, but we don't.

If you want to make someone believe you, tell them something they want to hear.

Honesty may be the best policy, but telling the truth isn't always polite.

How To Earn Money!

It's trite, but true, that mothers and fathers are the most unselfish people in the world. They write to me, not alone in the weeks before Christmas, but all the year around, with just one thought behind their plans for money making "The Kiddies." No sacrifice of time or labor is too great if only the kiddies are happy and healthy. It is a beautiful, spiritual love that glows through almost every letter. But I wish you wouldn't worry so much, dear parents. If the children have a love like yours to protect them, they have more contentment than material goods will ever bring. Don't break your health trying to give them toys and good times, but remember that other Mother who had only love to give her children on the first Christmas day. If you too have only love to give, you will still have what I am wishing for all my dear readers:

Some time ago I purchased a hemstitching machine. Can you give me the names of manufacturers to whom I can apply for home work? My home trade does not occupy my full time. I am a widow supporting a semi-invalid daughter. J. M.

The manufacturers of dresses and table linens and bed clothes would have work for you. You will find them listed in the Red Book. Write to them or go around to see them and ask for work.

CUTEST THING BABY EVER SAID

Visiting my aunt, my cousin William, aged 4, for the first time was sent on an errand to buy some sweet cream, and on the way he had spilled some cream. Running up the stairs, he told his mother: "Oh, mother! some cream sneaked out."

Flares, Flounces Back Again; Need Big Silk Supply

"It's said that the little silk worms are working overtime, for rumor has it that midday's new spring frock will require yards and yards of silk! What it lacks in length it will more than make up in width—so the French fashionists would have us believe."

How could it be otherwise when skirts are already beginning to flare and take on new fullness in divers ways? Everybody knows that flares and flounces fairly eat up materials, are frankly plaited all around, sometimes, finely, sometimes broadly.

And when there are no plaits or flares or gathers there are flounces—often two, three and even four tiers of them for their mount, as Paton delights to show them, from the hem to the bustline.

Then there are drapes, falling from the sides and effecting the much-desired irregular hemline, and descending at the back after the manner of the old-fashioned rain, especially in the evening costumes of period persuasion.

So much for skirts—the waists take on boleros and capotes, not to mention side drapes and jabots, bows and generous girdles. Even sleeves puff.

This should be good news for the silk departments!

Who can say how many times one should forgive and forget and wipe the slate clean to start over again?

The very fact that two people are married and find happiness even if it is temporary, is a memory that can only be created by greater happiness. A woman writes me: "Mine is the old story of separation. We were married several years and were sometimes very very happy and I was always ready to forgive and my husband for the dreadful things he did to me. He neglected me and was heavily into drinking and gambling and I should be drunk from the cup."

HOSPITAL HEAD NAMED IN SUIT TO GET FEES

MARTINEZ, Dec. 29. — Trial started today before Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie of a suit instituted by C. A. Budd, as assignee of C. A. Ricks, local realtor, against W. H. Hough, superintendent of the county hospital here, in which Budd asks judgment of $1800, an amount claimed as due as commissions to Ricks on realty transactions handled for Hough. In a counterclaim Hough asks judgment of $5500, an amount he claims to have paid for Ricks on a note on which he appeared as guarantor. Budd claims accumulated commissions are due Ricks on sales of property for Hough on Bradford Island and in Merced county. Opposing the suit Hough denied claims to the court that property he purchased in Merced county through Ricks failed to meet the claims of productivity advanced by the realtor. He sold the property, he informed the court, but subsequently, on the insistence of the purchaser, he took it back.

'Death Valley' Scott Starts Construction Of Big Mansion

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—A Chicago millionaire president of a New York insurance company is the reputed partner of "Death Valley" Walter Scott, in the construction of a $1,000,000 palace which is under way in the wilds of southern Nevada. He is Albert M. Johnson, president of the National Insurance Company of New York. While his friendship for the man who started the continent in 1906 with a recklessly inexhaustible supply of gold pieces, and whose train lavishly about during a record-breaking train run from the Pacific Coast to Chicago, remains a mystery, it has helped to locate rumors about the palace built about "Death Valley" Scott. The site of the structure is on Scott's ranch, 200 miles north-east of Los Angeles, in what is known as Grapevine Canyon at the upper end of Death Valley, right in the shadow of Tin Mountain.

ON HIGH POINT

From the mountain slopes one is able to look down on the floor of the valley, 200 feet below sea level, and to look up to the peak of Mount Whitney, highest point in the United States. In this place of desolation, far from railroads and centers of civilization, a mammoth structure of concrete, redwood and ornate tiling is going up. Beautiful gardens, fountains, pools and artificial waterfalls are planned to make the palace a gem in a diadem of architectural beauty. Questioned recently why he is having two special airplanes built for his use, seeing he plans to go so far from inhabited sections of the country, "Scotty" said: "I want to wander around up above and see if it is any different from down here where I have seen about everything worth seeing."

"Scotty" talks freely, yet he reveals little, if anything, of his plans. He has deserved the appellation of "man of mystery." "You know," he went on, "Johnson and I don't need money. This palace isn't a money-making scheme. We're doing it just to please ourselves."

WAS RANCH HAND
"Death Valley" Scott began as a buckaroo, or ranch hand. He traveled at one time with "Buffalo Bill" Cody's Wild West show. He used to shoot apples held on a wire, and was employed on his ranch. After a time at other circus stunts, Scott disappeared, only to emerge as a prospector for gold.

In 1906 he appeared in Los Angeles with a fortune, mostly in gold pieces. He became renowned as a spender. His prodigality, and his race by train to Chicago, made him the cynosure of all eyes. By and by his money was gone. He had spent it all in a wild tour of exuberance and conviviality. Again he disappeared, and although many prospectors and gold hunters tried to follow, he successfully eluded them all. Now he is up before the public again, his pockets bulging with gold pieces. Just what is the source of his apparently limitless wealth remains as much a mystery as ever.

DARING 'CHUTE JUMPER TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 29. — Dick Cantin faced death every day in the year as a daring, courageous parachute jumper.

On Christmas eve he declared to friends: "I'm going to take my biggest jump into eternity."

Always, he had dared death in the interest of aviation. His final fling into the void was made for another reason, love.

Two years ago, Richard Cantin, a thirty-five old commercial aviator who had been an aviation enthusiast and expert since the age of sixteen, came to New York with his wife, Evelyn. They were natives of Tulsa, Oklahoma. Cantin returned to Chicago to interest a number of millionaires there in his plans for a transcontinental aviation project.

HAS MARITAL TROUBLES

Returning to New York recently, he asked his wife to live with him in Chicago. She refused. Friends said today. She had obtained a position in a Fifth Avenue office here and was teaching Sunday School in Forest Hills, L. I.

Cantin brooded over her refusal to live with him. He retired to a local hotel room Wednesday afternoon and drank poison after slashing his left wrist. Until a few hours today the body was unclaimed. Then the young wife, prostrated with grief, made funeral arrangements. The body will probably be shipped to Chicago, where Cantin was well-known.

CRASHED IN MOUNTAINS

On his way over the Alleghany mountains several weeks ago, Cantin crashed to the ground and broke only the propeller on his plane.

Cantin was one of those who originated the idea of trans-Atlantic flights two years ago. He was admired and respected as a stunt flyer and for his knowledge of aeronautics acquired after years of intensive experience as a stunt flyer.

On Christmas day he was to have breakfast with Clarence Chamberlin, noted trans-Atlantic flyer. Cantin, however, did not keep the appointment. Knowing of his despondency, anxious friends set on the search to locate him which ended in finding

Afghanistan's King Will Visit Rome

(By Universal Service)
ROME, Dec. 29. — The King of Afghanistan is coming to Rome in January. This will be a royal precedent, as it will be the first time an Afghan ruler will have visited Europe. The Oriental potentate will be accompanied by his Queen, and numerous members of a large suite party.

HELD 'CRIME RECORD'

Cantin was a former Capt. Homer Berry, who was one of Capt. Rene Fonck's associates in his first attempt to fly from New York to Paris.

Cantin achieved a record for parachute jumps being credited with more than 250.

GOVERNOR SEES PROSPERITY IN THE NEW YEAR

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 29. — The year 1927 has been one of prosperity for California and the people of the State have every reason to look forward to "a happy and progressive New Year," Governor C. C. Young declared today.

"The favorable agricultural outlook and the growth of understanding between producers and distributors of California products point to financial prosperity," said the Governor. "Prosperity is also forecast by the steady increase in savings and commercial bank balances."

"California has made progress during 1927 in co-ordinating the activities of State government and in laying a sound foundation for future public work in highway construction, education, water conservation and distribution, tax equalization and care of the State's unfortunate."

Auto Races At Daytona Observe 25th Anniversary

ORMOND, DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Dec. 29. — Celebrating the 25th anniversary of automobile racing in America, a series of international speed trials on the Ormond-Daytona Beach where W. K. Vanderbilt, Barney Oldfield, Major H. O. D. Segrave, Tommy Milton, Ralph De Palma, and many others have made automobile history, will be held from February 15 to February 23. It has just been announced by the Daytona Beach Chamber of Commerce, Captain Malcolm Campbell, British speed ace whose record of 187 miles an hour in his Napier-Aero engine "Blue Bird" was cut short at Pendine Beach, Wales, last February by poor beach conditions, had written that he will be on hand to defend England's speed laurels. He has the permission of the British Air Ministry to use one of its secretly built special 450 horse power Napier engines such as was used in winning the Schneider cup race.

J. M. White of Philadelphia, insulated automobile wire manufacturer who is competing his 36-cylindered, three motored "triplex" will also race. White's car develops 1500 horse power, weighs 4 tons and is the most powerful the world has ever seen.

MANY ENTRANTS

Frank Lockhart, young American speedster, is another who will strive to travel faster than man has ever before gone on land. His medium will be a specially built Stutz. Fortunes have been spent on all these cars and it is unlikely that a speed of 225 miles an hour will be reached. The goal, of course, by the American drivers will be to break the present straightaway record of 203.79 miles an hour set by Major H. O. D. Segrave of London on the beach here last March with his 1,000 horse power Mystery S.

And to bring the world's speed title back to America.

The races will be held under the supervision of the American Automobile Association.

The classic will, as a whole, be a test of the speed of cars over a measured mile on a straightaway course, with four miles to start, one mile to run and four miles to slow down. The beach is as smooth and hard as a billiard table. It is straight as an arrow, 500 feet wide at low tide and when wind and tide conditions are right, affords the most perfect straightaway course in the world.

AMATEURS ADMITTED
There will also be a race open only to amateur drivers, driving their own cars which must be regular stock automobiles. In this race the drivers will compete against one another. In all other events they will try to beat old father time.

There is no professional promoter concerned in the forthcoming event. It is formulated not as a money-making proposition but as a test of speed in modern cars.

M. Dependin, French racer who recently won the Grand Prix in Spain may enter the great meet. A dispatch received in this country states that he will bring his car over.

Bitter Tax War Looms As Postponement Taken

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—A bitter tax war in the Senate was forecast today when Secretary of the Treasury Mellon approved plans of republican leaders to delay action on the $290,000,000 House bill until after March 15, the date for payment of the first installment of taxes due in 1928.

This delay was recommended by Mellon in order that Congress may know definitely the amount of revenues which the Federal Government may expect to receive from the income taxes paid by individuals and corporations for the year 1927, before the tax bill becomes law.

Senator Smoot, who first proposed delaying action on the bill until after March 15, in a letter to Secretary Mellon, announced that the plan will work no hardship on the taxpayers or on the government. A rebate equal to the amount of the tax cut finally approved by Congress, will be granted to those taxpayers who pay their taxes in full on March 15, he pointed out.

In recommending that the Senate delay action on the bill, Secretary Mellon declared that the treasury department has no reason to revise its previous estimate that the surplus for the fiscal year 1929, based on present tax rates, will amount only to $252,540,283. On the contrary, this estimate probably "erred on the side of liberality," he said.

Rotarians Enter Golf Tournament

The Richmond Rotarians will enter a golf team in the inter-Rotary tournament play at Monterey January 8, according to an announcement made yesterday by Seward Merry, chairman.

While the local Rotarians are expecting to be handicapped because of the absence of Frank Kales, champion of the local organization and of the Claremont Country club, Dr. A. S. Abbott, Dr. C. Walter Cole, A. P. Hill and Seward Merry are expected to swing a "mean club."

Others who are candidates for the squad are T. H. Delap, Grant L. Miner, Fred LaMoine, Larkin J. Younce, Henry Creeger, Irving.

The tournament will be open to all Rotary clubs of the central California district, each of which will be allowed to enter a five-man team.

Heavy Fines For Quail Trapping

LOS ANGELES, December 28.—The trapping and keeping of quail for the purpose of sale for food is a violation of the Fish and Game laws of California, and a recent decision of the State Supreme Court, which has been affirmed by the U. S. Supreme Court, has just completed paying a fine of $150, handed out by Judge Hawthorn of Fillmore.

Deputy Walter Emerick of Ventura, field officer of the Division of Fish and Game assisted by County Deputies Calberg and Gardner, found the traps and grabbed the birds, later arresting Toole.

The band of quail in this particular section had been carefully watched over and cared for by Judge Bagnall of Santa Paula and when the band dwindled, the fish and game officers started an investigation that led to the arrest of the offender.

Feeling that he would not care to try the case, Judge Bagnall had the man taken into Judge Hawthorn's court, at Fillmore, where the fine of $200 was assessed and $50 of it suspended. While the court allowed the defendant 90 days in which to pay the fine, reports made to Charles S. Bauder, assistant chief of patrol in charge of the southern district, are to the effect that this sort of vigilance and cooperation on the part of our judges will soon stamp out the quail trappers. Bauder declared in commenting on the good work done by Emerick and his assistants.

FAIR OR FOUL
By JAMES M. KAHN

Bill Carrigan is still in the putting the Big Red Sox in the Red Sox, something they had back in his own championship days and something that they had until the Babe and other famous Boston bums started their tour to New York. Carrigan started it at the minor league meeting in Dallas, when he grabbed a couple of heavy-hitting outfielders from out of the minor leagues, and he continued to grab them when he bought Ken Williams from the St. Louis Browns.

Williams, a veteran of the big show, who played only a part of the season last year, but compiled a .322 average last season and accounting for seventeen home runs. He doesn't move around so fleetly on those aging pins of his, but he still can hit them, and it is this last consideration which moved Carrigan to include the St. Louis slugger among his 1928 talent.

In Flagstad, Tohin and Williams the Red Sox have a trio of veteran outfielders who, while aging, are all efficient catchers and quite eloquent with the willow. With the new youngsters he has acquired, plus some of the young talent retained from last year, Carrigan will be able to put together an outfield that will perform with more efficiency than the ever changing trio which romped around the outer fringes of Fenway Park last season.

What Carrigan will do to his infield is yet to be determined, but he is going to do a lot. It was generally expected that he would be among the liveliest of the traders at the annual meetings which ended yesterday, but the Williams deal was the only one he made. Miller Huggins wanted Ruffing, and he had a couple of infielders that would have helped Carrigan, but the two managers never even talked over seriously. However, you can look for Carrigan to do a lot of bartering before the Red Sox hit it off for Florida in February.

My last glimpse of your cute little manager, Huggins, yesterday was of the Mite curled up in a chair in a remote corner of the Hotel Roosevelt lobby, looking like the male understudy for the Poor Little Rich Girl.

Lindbergh May Fly To South America Points

(By Universal Service)
GUATEMALA CITY, Dec. 20. — The good will flight of Col. Charles R. Lindbergh to the capital cities of Central American Republics may be extended to include visits by the famous aviator to Venezuela and Colombia. Col. Lindbergh is in receipt of invitations from the two South American governments, today but has not definitely made up his mind, he said, whether he will be able to fly that far towards the equator on this expedition.

TO HONDURAS TODAY
At six o'clock tomorrow morning Col. Lindbergh will take off from Aurora flying field here for British Honduras. Col. Lindbergh is not quite certain whether he will be able to land at Belize, the only landing place there is a polo field which may not permit a suitable take-off again. If he is not able to come down at Belize he will continue his flight to San Salvador.

BEING HONORED
The American Club here tonight a great ball in honor of Col. Lindbergh tonight, and another banquet and ball is being tendered him at the Casino Militar. The flyer spent a busy day in Guatemala's capital beginning with an official reception by President Chacon at the executive mansion at ten o'clock. A luncheon and reception was given by the Chamber of Commerce at 11.

"LINDY" TELLS PLANS
WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. — Col. Charles A. Lindbergh will fly only in Central America and Cuba on his present "Good Will Mission," the State Department was advised by cable from Guatemala City today.

He will have time only to make brief stops in each of the little republics before he hops off for Havana, Cuba, to arrive at about the same time President Coolidge and the Pan-American delegation to the Pan-American Congress reach there.

In his message to the State Department "Lindy" said he expected to fly from Guatemala to Belize, British Honduras on Friday. In case the landing field there is not suitable when he "drags" over it with his plane, he will proceed to Salvador. He will go from there to Nicaragua, to Costa Rica, Panama and then to Cuba, he stated.

Lindbergh said the Guatemalans had given him the warmest sort of reception and he was amazed that so many thousands of persons could gather in such an apparently sparsely settled community.

Engagements Not Marriages Need Trial Is Savant's Creed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. — Let's have trial engagements instead of trial marriages—for it's the months immediately preceding the trip to the altar, rather than the months just after, that are the most important in the making of a new home.

So said Dr. Benjamin R. Andrews of Columbia University, before the annual meeting of the American Sociological Society here today. Out of his extensive research into the causes of so much alleged disruption of the American home, Dr. Andrews drew definite conclusions.

It is during this engagement period that the young couple should thresh out the financial scheme of the embryonic household. It is on the shoals of money that most homes are wrecked and this matter should be by all means be settled before the "I do's" are said, Dr. Andrews believed.

"In the crucial time before marriage, the couple should look carefully into the cost of living and their assured incomes," he declared. "And a financial program should be laid out then."

"If the man and woman discover they can come to a perfect agreement on this point, there is added hope for the success of their marriage. But they must as well look out for storms ahead if their budget is agreed upon only with the half-hearted consent of one party or both."

Every prospective bride, in fact, would do well to test her husband-to-be during the engagement period by announcing tersely and decidedly, "I'm going to keep my job," according to Dr. Andrews.

"If he answers, 'Fine,' she has a prize," he explains. "But if he says 'Woman's place is in the home' or 'What will people say?' there is weakness in his character. This discovery should come before marriage and not after."

Mystery Suicide May Have Been New Fiend Plot To Secure Money

where Hickman lived, and where they had held up the drugstore of C. Ivy Thomas on Christmas Eve, 1926, Thomas being killed in an interchange of shots.

That Hickman had once told Hunt of a desire to cut up a body was admitted by both youths.

Hickman's statement of this came when he denied Hunt was in any way implicated in the Parker crime.

"I never discussed kidnapping with Hunt," he said.

"You specialized in robbery?"

WANTED TO KILL
"Yes, sir, but I do remember telling him that I would like to be able to get someone and cut him up and not feel any remorse from it—that is the word, I guess."

Hunt corroborated this statement.

"Did Hickman ever discuss with you the cutting up of a human body?" he was asked.

"At one time Edward—I thought he was just cutting up and laughing it off—he said that he always had a desire to cut up someone and throw them along the highway. I think that is the statement he made of any way to cut someone up," Hunt said.

SILLY NOTION
Asked if he could recall what had brought up that topic, he replied:

"I can't remember. It was just in the course of a conversation. I just took it as a silly notion. He would get moody at other times. He was just a nut—not sick or insane. I just laughed it off and made some remark."

Although police do not believe Hunt had any part in the Parker murder, they began a thorough investigation today, based on a previous statement made by two tenants of the apartment house where Hickman lived, and where he held the Parker girl prisoner and killed her. According to this statement, a youth believed to have been a companion of Hickman was seen leaving the apartment house the night of the murder.

HUNT IMPLICATED
Hickman in his confession of the Thomas killing, named Hunt as his accomplice. He said he had fired the shot which had killed the drugist.

Hunt, who was brought in as his accomplice and tested after Hickman had named him, denied he had fired any shots during the Thomas hold-up. He admitted he had been Hickman's partner on other occasions, and in hold-ups in other cities, including Fort Worth, San Francisco and San Jose.

He denied he had taken part in all of Hickman's hold-up jobs, butting his own participation to "not over six or seven."

ADMITTS HOLD-UPS
Hickman in his confession of the Thomas murder said he and Hunt had started for the coast from Kansas City in a stolen car about the first of December, 1926. They had "pulled" hold-ups in Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio on the way out, he said, leaving for San Francisco after the killing of Thomas. Hunt was shot twice in the shoulder in the Thomas hold-up.

He said he and Hunt returned here from San Francisco about the middle of January of this year and for several months both had lived at the home of Mrs. Martha C. Driskell, Hunt's step-grandmother.
